

June 27, 2025

NISCL partners with Kensington Business College to Expand Education Pathways

National Institute of Supply Chain Leaders (NISCL) and Kensington Business College have reached an agreement that will provide an efficient path for graduates of the school's Supply Chain Management program to pursue professional designations offered by NISCL at a faster rate.

Today's global market demands skilled practitioners to support the management of complex supply chains. NISCL programs meet this need and equips those seeking to launch or accelerate their career with the necessary skills to work at a management or executive level.

Many individuals find having industry-specific certifications helps them progress within their career and contribute at a strategic level within their company.

"At NISCL our brand promise is to be Canada's largest community of supply chain professionals, committed to supply chain excellence. The supply chain profession has never been more vital to the progress of the Canadian economy and as the profession continues to be in the spotlight, we are on a steadfast path to deliver on our purpose: to promote awareness of the important role of supply chain management, as well to professionalize the industry." says Himani Dureja, VP of Education and Corporate Engagement.

As a graduate of the Supply Chain Management program, if you have obtained a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 (70%), you will be exempted from the following NISCL courses, wherever they are program requirements

- Procurement Strategy and Supply Management
- Operations and Process Design Management
- Global Strategic Sourcing
- Public Sector Supply Chain Management
- Effective Leadership
- Importance of Communication
- Risk Management
- Ethics: Social and Environmental Responsibility
- Diploma: Inventory Management
- Diploma: Transportation Services